ACTIVITY REPORT

Nehru Planetarium, New Delhi is one of the five planetariums named after India's first Prime Minister Pt. Jawahar Lal Nehru. Located in Delhi, it is built in the Teen Murti Bhavan which was previously the authorized residence of Prime Minister Pt. Jawahar Lal Nehru and now rehabilitated into a museum in his warm-hearted memories. With the aim of encouraging Astronomy education in India, the Jawaharlal Nehru Memorial fund took the responsibility of developing the Nehru Planetarium. Inaugurated by the then Prime Minister Smt. Indira Gandhi on February 6, 1984, this not only lures astronomers but also kids who horde to get up close and special glimpse of the sun, moon, stars and the planets in the sky.

One of the most admired things of Nehru Planetarium is the Sky Theatre. Every year a huge crowd turns up to the planetarium to visit the same. This dome-shaped, massive sized theatre puts on information on planets, constellations, stars and many other astronomy related things in the form of paintings, computer animations, cartoons, video clippings and special effects. Various programmes, workshops, interactive sessions are organized with these objects to display information in the Sky Theatre. The impressively large grounds within the premises are nothing less than a royal palace.

Sixteen students of Semester-I of Value Addition Course (VAC) - Science and Society accompanied by two teachers booked a 2D show at 11am on November 26, 2023. After assembling at a fixed spot in the Planetarium half an hour before the show, the students submitted their attendance. Excited to see the show, students entered and no words described their feeling which was incredible. Amazed to watch something so great, everyone enjoyed to get so much information in an innovative way. The show inculcated in them various facts about solar system, galaxies, other celestial objects, the great scientists of astronomical field etc. After this students attended exhibitions hosted by Planetarium authorities and this featured models and artefacts related to space exploration. This was followed by a round of premise to become more familiar with the place. Visiting this kind of a place once in a while is great as they not only take us to another world with scientific understanding but also educate us about the world above us.
