REPORT OF THE “MEGA DISTRIBUTION DRIVE”

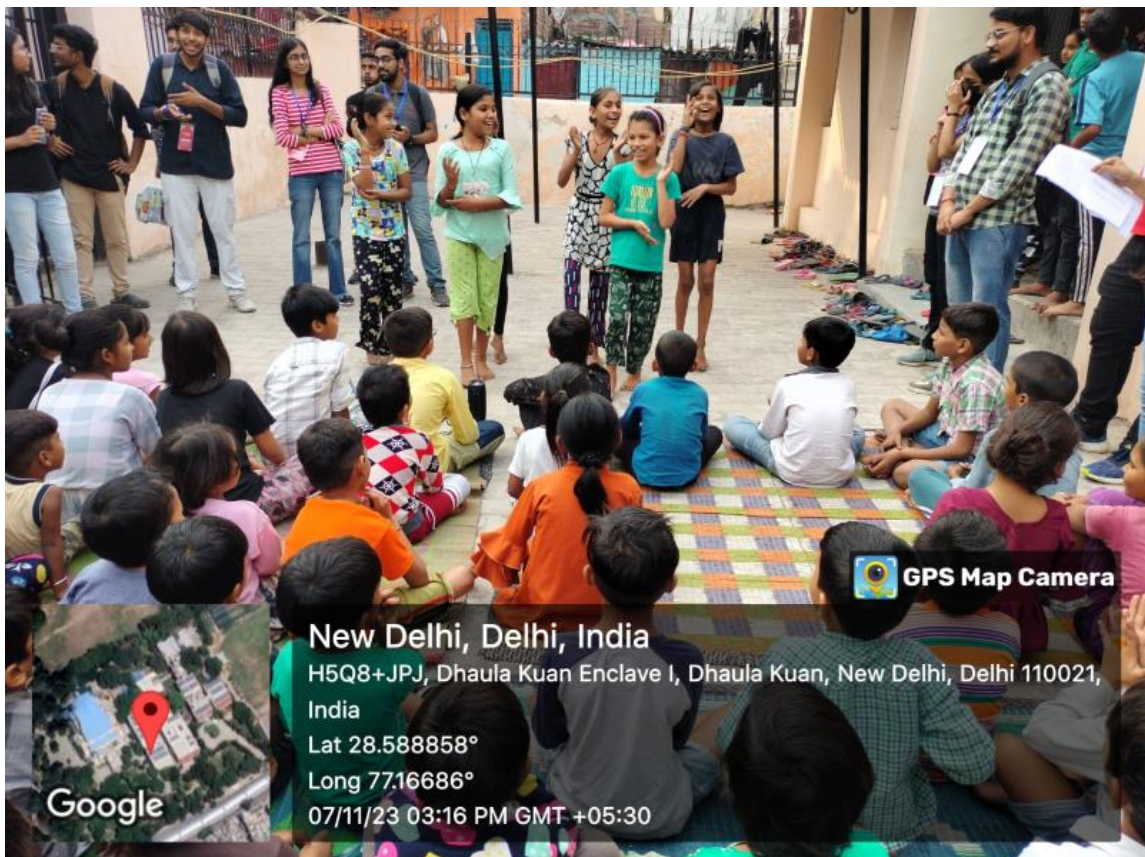

The Extension Society, Department of Commerce, Sri Venkateswara College, University of Delhi, conducted a "Mega Distribution Drive" on November 7, 2023 (Tuesday) in a slum area near JJ Camp. This initiative was part of the "Bi-Annual Event: Riwaayat," marking its first day and was conducted in collaboration with Handout Foundation as the official drive partner. Members of the society, comprising 31 enthusiastic students from Team Extension, actively participated in the drive.

We extended our support by catering to the educational needs of all the children by providing essential stationery items including pencils, erasers, sharpeners, scales, and notebooks, during the drive. This aimed not only to uplift their spirits but also to facilitate their access to quality education, supporting their educational journey and elevating the standard of education within the community, aligning with the principles of SDG 4. To enhance the significance of the day, activities, and various engaging games were organized, creating an atmosphere of joy and learning. Moreover, to elaborate on the magnitude of the drive, over 100 sweets and chocolates (alongside the stationery items) were distributed among 50-60 children approximately. Collaborating closely with Handout Foundation, the initiative witnessed dedicated participation from 10 volunteers, amplifying the impact and outreach of the drive. These specifics vividly portray the scale and impact of our effort, truly making it a 'mega' endeavor.

The smiles and expressions of joy on the children's faces served as a heartening confirmation of the drive's positive impact on the community. This enthusiastic response served as an inspiration to all involved. The unwavering support and guidance from teachers, notably Dr. Sindhumani Bag (Convener) and Mr. Ajit Singh (Faculty Member), played a pivotal role in ensuring the success of this initiative.

The children's happiness and gratitude were evident, serving as a testament to the significance of such impactful initiatives. Their infectious enthusiasm further brightened the day for all participants. We are committed to continuing our efforts to make a positive difference in the lives of those in need, fostering meaningful connections within our community. The drive concluded successfully with the collective efforts of all involved, ensuring the smooth and efficient execution of this drive.
