The major annual activity of the Economics Association, the annual economics festival BLISSPOINT' 20 was held on 24th and 25th January, 2020. Inaugural address was made by Hon'ble Principal Dr. P. Hemlatha Reddy where she also unveiled economics department magazine, Econexpressions, 2019-20. Realizing the danger posed by Climate Change, we keep our central theme as "Integrating Innovation and Climate Change with Economic Growth". We were delighted to have Prof. Shreekant Gupta (Delhi School of Economics) and Prof. Purnamita Dasgupta (Institute of Economic Growth) to address the Inaugural Session. The audience was able to understand the severity of climate change, the damage it has caused to the environment. Prof. Purnamita Dasgupta discussed about the future implications of climate change. There was also a realisation that something needs to be urgently done to tackle the menace of climate change. Prof. Shreekant Gupta enlightened the audience about various international agreements on climate change and the contemporary issues related to same. Various economically sustainable models were discussed. There was a consensus that growth is important but not at the expense of environment.
