BLISSPOINT 2021
26th and 27th February 2021

"Behavioural Economics and Public Policy in India

In the policy sphere, behavioural economics is a fairly modern branch of economics, one which is still being explored, with its scope widening alongside each passing day. Since a majority of people have identical responses to a particular nudge, the slightest tweak in a pre-existing mechanism can orchestrate massive consequences which sometimes defy basic ideas of rationality. This explains the various nudges in policymaking. It is in this context, that this theme was chosen for BLISSPOINT 2021.

Keynote Address by Mr. Parameswaran Iyer

The keynote speaker for the event was Mr. Parameswaran Iyer, who has served as an IAS officer and as Secretary, Ministry of Drinking Water and Sanitation, Government of India. Noted for his pivotal role in the flagship programmes of the government like the Swachh Bharat Mission and the National Rural Drinking Water Program, he has been a source of inspiration for civil servants and youth worldwide. Sharing his experience both of being in the government and outside, Mr. Iyer drew the attention of the audience to the new book of his where he reflects about this at length. Mr. Iyer shared his expertise and excerpts of his own experiences as a policy maker with all the participants of the seminar. He talked about how principles of behavioural economics were significant in formulating and implementing intricate public policy projects like the Swachh Bharat Mission and other projects. His discussion revolved around the effective tools used in the execution of public policy decisions and how these tools have evolved over the years. This was followed by an interaction with the audience.

Prof. Sanjay Bakshi (MDI Gurgaon): Lecture on Behavioural Finance

One of the leading minds in the field of value investing Prof. Sanjay Bakshi is one of the best minds in India in the fields of Value Investing and Behavioral Finance. A professor of 'Behavioural Finance and Business Valuation' at Management Development Institute, Gurugram, he is also a Managing Partner at ValueQuest Capital LLP — a value investing specialist in moats investing. ValueQuest advises some of India's large family offices in making conservative but meaningful, long-term public market investments. Having received his M.Sc. in Economics from the London School of Economics and Political Science, Prof. Bakshi is also a fellow member of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. Prof. Bakshi talked about how behavioural economics is an emerging and one of the most intriguing fields of economics and gave an elaborate presentation on how tools of behavioral economics are used in our daily lives to make fruitful and efficient decisions. He discussed six elaborate models of behavioral economics, explaining its usage in daily lives as well as its implications for business, investors as well as for effective formulation and evolution of public policy. With the help of visual media, Prof Bakshi explained various interesting concepts, theories and effects; the Cobra Effect, Peitzman Effect, Confirmation Bias, Low and High Contrast Effects, to name some.

Student events

The flagship event was witness to number of student events. Economics Quiz, Mockstock, Business Plan, paper Presentation, Milgrom-Wilson Football Auction,

Business Plan

The event was a great opportunity to acquire funding for business ideas, feedback on your strategic plan, and also exposure to the right audience. Judged by Ms. Shivangi Goyal, the participants got some great insights on their business models.

Paper presentation

The flagship event in memory of Dr. Shailaja S Thakur was witness to young aspiring researchers in six teams exploring into the depths of certain intriguing topics. The event provided a platform to young research aspirants to showcase their ideas. Judged by Mrs. Sugandha Huria and Mr. Ankit Joshi, the event was a huge success with research on topics like "Glass ceiling effect".

- According to the Wall Street Journal 1993, glass ceiling is not one wall or ceiling, they are varied and pervasive forms of gender bias that occur frequently in both overt and covert ways.
- It is often emphasized that with the country's first citizen, the chief of the ruling political party and three powerful chief ministers as women, India has successfully broken the barrier of Glass ceiling. However, looking at India's 153rd rank out of 166 countries in terms of Gender Development Index (2018), it seems India has to go a long way to realize the dream of gender equality.
- The research shows that while there are a growing number of women opting for international assignments (IAs), they are overwhelmingly concentrated in junior and middle management positions, have less options in terms of the countries to which they can be posted and are handicapped by cultural prejudices about proper gender roles in some countries.

Milgrom-Wilson Football League Auction

Named after famed economists Paul Milgrom and Robert Wilson, the newly introduced event of the fest, The Milgrom-Wilson League, takes the classic idea of a football auction and reinvents it to incorporate a quiz into it, followed by the fantasy league. One has to showcase their football knowledge in quiz, get into a bidding war and create a team that can compete in the fantasy league.

On June 3, 1997, Roberto Carlos impressed the world with one of the most spectacular free kicks in football history. The kick left goalkeeper perplexed, as the ball apparently was headed to the corner flag. However, it curved back, glanced the edge of the post, and stopped only when it hit the net. Against which country did he score the goal?

A. Argentina
B. Spain
C. France
D. Italy
