BRIEF INFORMATION ABOUT THE ACTIVITY

TOPIC/SUBJECT OF THE ACTIVITY	How to Conduct Ethical Research
OBJECTIVES	The seminar on "How to Conduct Ethical Research" aimed to equip participants with the knowledge and tools necessary for upholding the highest standards of integrity in their research. The program's objectives included understanding ethical research principles, raising awareness about plagiarism and its avoidance, improving writing skills through tools like Grammarly, demonstrating the responsible use of AI tools such as ChatGPT, and emphasizing the importance of proper referencing and citations. By achieving these objectives, the seminar empowered participants to conduct research that maintains ethical rigor and contributes to the advancement of knowledge and innovation.
METHODOLOGY	The methodology of the program involved a multifaceted approach. It began with informative lectures and presentations to convey the principles of ethical research, plagiarism avoidance, and the responsible use of AI tools. Practical demonstrations were provided for using Grammarly effectively in research writing. Hands-on workshops allowed participants to interact with ChatGPT and learn its ethical application. The program also included sessions on proper referencing and citation practices. Participants engaged in discussions, case studies, and group exercises to reinforce learning. Q&A sessions and post-program assessments ensured comprehension. Overall, a combination of didactic instruction, practical exercises, and interactive elements facilitated a comprehensive understanding of ethical research practices.

INVITED SPEAKERS WITH AFFLIATION DETAILS (IF ANY)	Mr. Noushad Ahmed Library & Information Officer CCRAS, Ministry of Ayush, Govt. of India
OUTCOMES	The program yielded several notable outcomes. Participants gained a deep understanding of ethical research principles, demonstrating a commitment to research integrity. They developed a heightened awareness of plagiarism, leading to improved originality in their work. Proficiency in writing skills, with the aid of Grammarly, resulted in more coherent and polished research documents. Participants effectively integrated ChatGPT into their research, enhancing productivity and creativity while adhering to ethical guidelines. Additionally, improved referencing and citation practices underscored their commitment to acknowledging sources. The program empowered participants to conduct research with integrity, producing high-quality, ethically sound work that contributes positively to the research community and society as a whole.

Summary Report

The seminar on "How to Conduct Ethical Research" conducted on 20th Oct, 2023 at 11:00AM in room no 158, by Mr. Noushad Ahmed, Library and Information Officer at CCRAS, Ministry of Ayush, GOI, delivered a comprehensive and impactful educational experience. This program aimed to instill a strong sense of ethical responsibility in research practices, and it achieved a range of significant outcomes.

Participants left the seminar with a profound understanding of ethical research principles, appreciating the critical importance of maintaining the highest standards of integrity in their work. This heightened awareness led to a tangible reduction in instances of plagiarism and a notable improvement in originality in research projects. Grammarly, as a writing tool, played a pivotal role in refining the writing skills of the participants, resulting in more coherent and polished research documents.

The integration of AI tools, specifically ChatGPT, was executed responsibly, and participants learned how to leverage these technologies effectively while adhering to ethical guidelines. The program also saw remarkable progress in referencing and citation practices, ensuring proper acknowledgment of sources.

In summary, the seminar successfully empowered participants with the knowledge and tools necessary to conduct ethical research. This, in turn, ensures the production of high-quality, ethically sound research that positively contributes to the broader academic and scientific community. The seminar proved to be a crucial step in fostering a culture of research integrity and responsible innovation.

The workshop would not have been possible without the support of the Principal-Prof K Chandramani Singh, TIC- Dr Neeru Kumar and Convener - Dr Rahul and the Student Volunteers from the Department of Electronics as follows:

1. Manish Pathak (Student Coordinator) – Year III
2. Virender Sagar (Student Coordinator) – Year III
3. Krish Khandelwal (Student Coordinator) – Year III
4. Mohit Bagadi-Year III
5. Dev Aggarwal – Year II
6. Yash Nigam – Year II
7. Himanshu Shah - Year II
8. Kartik Parashar – Year II
9. Utkarsh Singh- Year II
10. Srijan Bhargava – Year II
