SEMINAR ON
"GLOBAL TRENDS IN DEMOCRACY" by Dr. Amir Ali

The students of political science department successfully organised a seminar on 5th November, 2018 where the students were blessed with the golden opportunity of being addressed by Dr. Amir Ali on the global trends in democracy. Presently working as an assistant professor at the center for political studies, school of social sciences, JNU, he talked to the students about the changes in democratic patterns being observed throughout the world. Not only did it open wide doors to discussion but also left a huge impact on students to question their current nature of society. Needless to say, it was another great seminar and a successful learning day for the students.
