OUTCOMES

The trip to Kaliko Agro Farms in Ghewra, New Delhi, was an enlightening experience for students as they delved into the fascinating world of poultry farming. Witnessing the process of hatching eggs firsthand, they were captivated by the intricate journey from incubation to the emergence of fluffy chicks. Exploring the diverse array of Indian poultry breeds such as Kadaknath and Rhode Island Red, students gained valuable insights into the unique characteristics and traits of each breed. Moreover, they learned essential techniques for maintaining the health and well-being of the birds, including proper feeding practices and housing requirements.

The visit not only offered a practical understanding of poultry farming but also instilled a sense of appreciation for the meticulous care and dedication required in this industry. As students engaged with experts at Kaliko Agro Farms, they left with newfound knowledge and a deeper respect for the importance of sustainable and responsible agriculture practices in meeting the growing demands of our society.
