Anubhuti organized a fundraising campaign to aid Kashtakari Panchayat's efforts towards the betterment of waste pickers and sanitation workers. Our aim was to strengthen their efforts and be a part in their endeavour of reforming the informal sector.

During the course of this campaign we organized three Instagram live sessions along with online singing, acting and photography competitions. Receiving a warm response from everyone who participated and donated, this campaign was extremely successful.

We would like to express our gratitude to Kashtakari Panchayat for accepting our collaboration and allowing us to hold this fundraising campaign. They provided us an opportunity to help the waste pickers working tirelessly on the frontlines in the battle against the pandemic. We are grateful that we got this opportunity to help them out and assist the organization in inching closer towards their goal.

This campaign would not have been a success without the zealous participation of the speakers and performers of the live sessions. We would like to thank Bhavika Mehta, Kaavya Bajaj, Ramanjit Kaur, Swati Barik, Sarthak Tapasvi and Abdul Samad Khan for taking out time and helping us out. Besides a call for the collection of funds, these sessions witnessed insightful talks on mental health, theatre and the condition of the waste pickers alongside the performances of extremely talented musicians and poets.

We are extremely thankful to everyone who participated in the online competitions to showcase their talent and contribute for the cause. The online competitions were flooded with entries in all the categories which allowed us to give a platform to those immensely talented individuals. The participation fee collected for the competitions was added to the donation made to the organization.
