You can also find details of your offer via the online tracker: lse.ac.uk/study-at-lse/Graduate/Applicants/Tracking-your-application. The Offer Pack is available online at lse.ac.uk/study-at-lse/Graduate/Offer-holders/Graduate-Offer-pack. You will be able to find details of your departmental contact here: lse.ac.uk/study-at-lse/Graduate/Offer-holders/Departmental-contacts.

As a full-time student, you will be required to attend a minimum of 21 hours of study per week. Mandatory induction and orientation events including enrolment take place throughout 'Welcome' from 17 - 24 September 2021. The enrolment session for your programme will be confirmed to you in March 2021 via email and will be published at lse.ac.uk/graduate-offer-pack-news. For further information, please refer to 'Annex C: Enrolment' and the 'Your first few days' sections of the offer pack. The programme lasts 22 months, finishing 16 June 2023. The graduation ceremony will be in July following completion of the programme.

Your offer of admission is made on the basis of the information you provided throughout the application process. All the information you need is in the offer booklet; please read it carefully and then reply to us by completing the online offer reply form, which you can access via your LSE for You account. You can accept this offer before you meet the conditions below, but you must satisfy them before you enrol at the School:

- * You must provide official proof of the full title, awarding institution, final overall grade and date of award of each of your qualifications. This information may appear on your transcript.
- * We require an original or certified copy of your transcript.
- * You are required to obtain your degree with a minimum overall mark of 7.5/10

Your documents must be originals, or certified copies, in English. See here for details: lse.ac.uk/graduate/offer/documents.

Having registered as an LSE student you will be required to take courses and examinations as specified by LSE regulations and additionally:

* The first year of the programme constitutes a Diploma programme and is governed by Diploma regulations. In order to progress to the second year, you must meet the progression requirements as set out in the Calendar Programme Regulations at lse.ac.uk/MScEcon2yrRegs2020

Fees

We have classified you as Overseas for the payment of fees. The fees for your programme are 23520 pounds sterling for the 2021/22 session, and 32208 pounds sterling for the 2022/23 session. Details of how and when to pay are on page 17 of the Offer Pack, and more information about how we classify your fee status is on page 22. The LSE Student Fees Policy can be found via: lse.ac.uk/studentfeespolicy.

Financial Undertaking Form

You are required to submit the online Financial Undertaking Form (FUF), which you can access via your LSE for You account. Please read and complete the online form carefully. You should submit the form before 30 July 2021, or as soon as possible after that date if your offer is received later than July 2021. If you are awaiting confirmation from a sponsoring organisation you should complete the online form as though you or your family will be responsible for your fees, and then inform us at a later time once your sponsorship/scholarship is confirmed. You will not become liable to pay any fees until you enrol.

LSE Financial Support

It has not yet been possible to consider you for financial support from LSE, as your LSE Graduate Financial Support Application was not submitted before the decision to offer you a place was taken. In order to be considered for needs-based financial support from the School, please complete the application form which is linked to the online tracker. The application form will be available until 17.00 (UK time) 29 April 2021. More information about Financial Support is on page 12 of the Offer Pack.

International Students

You cannot use this document to apply for a Student visa. If you need to apply for a visa to study in the UK under the Student route, please start preparing to do this as early as possible. It can take weeks to gather your documents and complete the application form, then many more weeks before you receive your visa. Key points to note are:

* LSE has an advice service for international students who require a visa in order to study: the LSE International Student Visa Advice Team, known as ISVAT.

* Many visa applications are refused for financial reasons. Please pay close attention to the ISVAT's guidance about financial documents: lse.ac.uk/isvat-faqs

* You can find detailed guidance written specially for LSE students at: <https://info.lse.ac.uk/current-students/immigration-advice> and for all students on the UK Visas and Immigration website: <https://www.gov.uk/student-visa>. Please read this before you make your application.

* You can only apply for a visa once you have received your Confirmation of Acceptance of Studies (CAS) number. The earliest you can apply is a maximum of six months (for applications made outside the UK) and three months (for applications made in the UK) before the official programme start date as stated on your CAS. It is not possible to do this any sooner.

* If you are already in the UK with a Student visa for a different institution, you will have to apply for a new visa under the Student route to study at LSE before you can enrol and study at the School. Please contact ISVAT for advice on your options before submitting an application to avoid a refusal. To obtain a visa, you will require us to issue you with a CAS. For this, you will need to hold a full-time, unconditional offer from LSE and have submitted both an online Offer Reply Form confirming that you have accepted our offer and the Financial Undertaking Form. Being issued with an offer letter does not guarantee we will be able to issue you with a CAS and we may need to contact you for further information. Generally, we begin issuing CASs by email from May 2021 onwards. Please note that being issued a CAS does not guarantee that you will be issued with a visa. You will need to comply with the UKVI requirements to make a successful visa application. If your visa application is refused, we may not be able to support you with a new CAS.

Academic Technology Approval Scheme (ATAS)

You are not required by the Foreign and Commonwealth Office to apply for ATAS clearance. Please find useful information about ATAS here: <https://www.gov.uk/guidance/academic-technology-approval-scheme>

Accommodation and living costs

If you wish to live in an LSE residence, please visit lse.ac.uk/accommodation for advice on making your booking via the LSE Student Accommodation System, information about each residence and prices. The majority of new graduate applicants who book before the summer deadline will be able to reserve a place in either an LSE hall, or a hall managed by one of its partners (the University of London, Sanctuary Students or Urbanest). It is possible for graduate applicants to book after the summer deadline, however, this will be subject to availability. The earlier you book, the more availability there will be. Accommodation costs in an LSE residence range from about £110 - £400+ per week (2020/21 rates), depending on the size and type of room, studio or apartment-style. Contracts run over 39, 40 or 50 week durations (please note University of London halls offer 40 week contracts as standard). You should allow about £1300 per month for living expenses, plus £1000 for one-off expenses. More information is in the Offer Pack on page 24.

Transfer Policy

The offer of admission and acceptance of a place applies to the specific degree programme that is named in the offer letter. The School will not allow a successful applicant to transfer from one programme to another after enrolment, unless it considers that exceptional circumstances apply.

Data protection

Please note that LSE, like all UK universities, collects information on its students and staff for various essential administrative, academic and health and safety reasons. If you choose to accept your offer of a place, you are agreeing to the Conditions of Registration (annex C of the offer book) and to the lawful use of your data for the uses mentioned.

We look forward to welcoming you to LSE at the start of your programme,

Dear Ms. Rridhi Kapila,

It gives me great pleasure to offer you a Research Scholar position in the (Integrated MSc- PhD) programme at the National Centre for Biological Sciences (NCBS). Congratulations!

Research on our campus covers the study of living systems at all scales, from molecules to cells, tissues, organisms and ecosystems and is strongly inter-disciplinary, with theory, experiments and observations playing a collaborative role. Our cutting-edge experimental research infrastructure and vibrant program of research, academics, conferences, and workshops, makes us one of the key centres globally for conducting such interdisciplinary research in biology.

The terms and conditions of the offer, and details on benefits extended to Research Scholars at NCBS, are given in the Appendix. You will be paid a fellowship of Rs. 21,000 per month, enhanced to Rs. 31,000 after one year, and further increased as described in the Appendix. You will be provided accommodation in a hostel on campus.

As we are dealing with the Covid-19 pandemic, the health and safety of our students is our top priority. New students are expected to complete joining formalities by September 1, 2021. Procedures for reporting on campus will be updated, depending on the prevailing situation at that time.

You must send your acceptance by email to phd@ncbs.res.in by July 15, 2021. On hearing from you we will send you additional information regarding joining formalities.

I do hope you choose to accept our offer. Those who join Integrated PhD stream at NCBS represent a special group of students, who make a commitment to a 6-year research programme. If you wish to be counselled on the pros and cons of joining the Integrated PhD programme at NCBS, versus joining a traditional Master's degree at another institution elsewhere, please do not hesitate to contact me (rajladher@ncbs.res.in cc: phd@ncbs.res.in). My goal is to ensure you make the best possible choice at this critical stage of your research career. I would greatly appreciate your letting me know if you should choose to join elsewhere.

Best wishes,

Raj Ladher

Owing to the evolving situation due to the COVID-19 pandemic, it is possible that there may be modifications to the previously announced calendar. You are requested to keep track of the IIT Delhi website for updates on this issue. Communication via email will also go to you from IIT Delhi.
