REPORT

The Department of Sociology organized a highly informative seminar on "Career Guidance in Humanities," in collaboration with Bano IAS (Initiative by Jamia RCA Alumni), held on 22nd February 2024. The event aimed to enlighten students about various career avenues in the humanities domain, such as academia, public service, and beyond. Harliv and Akansha from second Year, Sociology Hons served as the hosts for the event. Dr. Satheesh Perumalla, the Event Convener, warmly welcomed the participants and introduced the guest speakers.

The seminar proved to be of significant importance, offering invaluable insights and guidance to students aspiring to establish themselves in the diverse realms of humanities. As attendees navigated through an ever-evolving global landscape, understanding the vast array of career opportunities available became paramount, and the seminar served as a beacon of light in this regard.

The event was graced by distinguished speakers, each bringing a wealth of knowledge and experience to the table. Mr. ASIM MUJTEBA, who qualified the prestigious UPSC Civil Services examination in 2022, and was allotted Indian Railways Management Services (IRMS), shared his journey and expertise. As a bachelor in chemical engineering, his insights resonated with the audience.

Another notable speaker was Mr. Vinay Babu, the director at Bano IAS. With previous experience at the IFSC Authority under the Ministry of Finance, Mr. Babu's vast experience in various prestigious government posts, including Assistant Provident Fund Commissioner (UPSC) and Assistant Director in Delhi Development Authority, provided invaluable insights. His MBA from IIM Bangalore further enriched his perspectives.

Mr. Devendra Kumar, Director at Bano IAS, also shared his insights as a former Assistant Commandant in the Central Armed Police Force (UPSC). As an alumnus of IIT Kanpur and having cracked exams like JEE, CLAT, and NDA, Mr. Kumar's journey inspired many in attendance.

Furthermore, Mr. Mukarram Badar Khan, a committed educator in the field of Civil Services Exam Preparation, shared his expertise. With experience as a mentor at Jamia RCA and Hamdard Study Circle, Mr. Khan's teachings on Indian Polity, Governance, and International Relations were invaluable. His focus on the art of answer writing, which has aided numerous civil servants like Mr. Faisal Raza (IPS) and Miss. Saniya Syed (Deputy Collector, UP), resonated deeply with the audience.

The seminar delved into the static aspects behind the news, shedding light on crucial elements that contribute to success in competitive exams, particularly the UPSC exams. One prominent theme emphasized was the significance of Persistence and Hard Work. Speakers reiterated the necessity of maintaining discipline, perseverance, and a strong work ethic to excel in the rigorous examination process.

Additionally, the seminar addressed the importance of Maintaining Mental Health during the challenging preparation phase. Participants were encouraged to prioritize their well-being through various strategies, including fostering Social Interaction to prevent isolation, recognizing the need for Flexible Bureaucracy in modern administrative roles, and implementing effective Stress Management techniques.

The session also underscored several important considerations vital for success in competitive exams. The trio of Content, Guidance, and Implementation was highlighted as pivotal factors, emphasizing the need for comprehensive understanding, expert guidance, and effective execution. Furthermore, the significance of thorough preparation using Slivers and Previous Year Questions (PYQ) was emphasized, underlining the importance of a structured approach and familiarity with exam patterns.

Rohitkrishna A, President of the Sociology Student Association at Sri Venkateswara College, delivered the vote of thanks. He expressed gratitude to the speakers, the faculty members and students for their contributions to the seminar and thanked everyone for their active participation.

Overall, the seminar served as a comprehensive guide for aspirants seeking careers in the humanities field, providing invaluable insights, practical tips, and motivational guidance. It exemplified the dedication and commitment of Sri Venkateswara College's Sociology Department and Bano IAS in nurturing and empowering the next generation of civil servants. The seminar proved to be an enlightening and enriching experience for all attendees. Their active participation and engagement ensured that each individual made the most out of this wonderful opportunity.
