REPORT

The Department of Sociology at Sri Venkateswara College recently hosted a discipline specific skill-based seminar titled, " In Between Images and Ideas: society, Identity and Photography” on 30 November 2023. Distinguished speaker, Mr. Raghav Pasricha shared his expertise on Exploring the Intersection of Sociology and Photography.

The event kicked off with great enthusiasm as Pratibha Kumari, Vice-President of Sociology Association set the stage for an intriguing exploration into the world of sociology and photography. Dr. Padma Priyadarshini, the convener of the event was invited to initiate the proceedings, marking the beginning of an seminar that would unfold as a captivating blend of insights and experiences.

Mr. Pasricha’s extensive experience, adds a rich layer of depth to the proceedings. Dr. Niharika Jaiswal from the faculty welcomed him warmly, setting the stage for an insightful dialogue. He then commenced by sharing his journey within the field of sociology, particularly his experiences at Venky, injecting a touch of humour by playfully poking at the subject of sociology.

Mr. Pasricha drew parallels between sociology and photography, presenting them as complementary lenses through which one can perceive the extraordinary within the ordinary. He emphasized the role of "Role-playing" by Goffman and how both disciplines allow us to delve deeper into the fabric of society. The event delved into the power of symbolism and iconicity through the lens of photography.

The Speaker showcased works by photographers like Dayanita Singh, illustrating how socio and photography can transform the mundane into the iconic, giving examples such as the Afghan girl photo and the Serbian boy photo. Raghav Sir and his partner’s works on syncretic heritage in India were showcased, highlighting the capacity of socio and photography to transcend symbolic boundaries. The exploration of VARI and BAUL FAKIRS demonstrated how faith and humanity intertwine in everyday lives, creating an illusionary world that goes beyond the symbolic.

The event was enriched by audience engagement through insightful questions. Students inquired about conveying perspectives in photography, leading to a discussion on interpretation. They questioned the choice of target communities, unearthing the speaker's motivation for promoting humanism. Another query on photographic effects brought forth an amusing response, emphasizing the subjective nature of interpretation.

In response to a student's question about challenges faced during his journey, Mr. Pasricha highlighted linguistic barriers but expressed the overwhelming cooperation and kindness of the communities. The transparency and originality of photographs, especially in the age of filters, were debated, with the speaker emphasizing the subjective nature of objectivity.

As the event drew to a close, Pratibha Kumari extended a heartfelt vote of thanks, acknowledging the invaluable insights shared by Mr. Raghav Pasricha. The audience left with a deeper appreciation for the symbiosis of sociology and photography, realizing their shared ability to illuminate the extraordinary in the ordinary.

In essence, the event served as a platform for a thought-provoking exploration of the intersection of sociology and photography, leaving attendees inspired to view the world through a more profound and empathetic lens.
