DR CC)

Hello,

Greetings from the British High Commission.

Our 'High Commissioner for a Day' competition to celebrate the International Day of the Girl (11 October) is back!

DR

The competition: It is open to girls between the ages of 18-23 years. The deadline is 4 September. We are focusing on technology this year and our competition questions is 'How can the UK and India collaborate on technology to benefit future generations?' Please see attached for more details or visit Gov.uk page.

The winner of this pan-India initiative gets a unique opportunity to be the British High Commissioner for a day – overseeing the UK's largest overseas network experiencing a wide range of the UK-India work. The competition first started in 2017. More info on last year's winner/programme.

I would be very grateful if you could please share the attached poster with your students. The poster can also be printed out and put up on notice boards.

Many thanks,

Diana
