EVENT SUMMARY:

With the advent of the Spring season, the Equal Opportunity cell, Sri Venkateswara College relished its presence by conducting its annual fest, Lahar'24.

Day-1

With the symbolic illumination of a traditional lamp, we inaugurated our event, recognizing the ring of light as a beacon of hope. The event was embraced by the presence of Chief guest Dr. Bipin Kumar Tiwary (Associate Professor at Department of Political Science, University of Delhi). As rightly said opportunities knock the doors of a willing person, the event was graced with numerous exclusive opportunities. Our president, Mr. Lalit added glory to the event through his divine tone and made us realise the importance of leadership qualities in life. Then our convener, Dr. Kanwar sir enlightened us towards the path of success. He prayed for everyone's health.

After inauguration it was time to begin with our hustling competitions. First was the singing competition 'Swar Sangam'. It was exclusively for PWDs, it was very wonderful to hear the utmost tuning between the audience and our awaited stars. Even the cords of the guitar seemed excited to match our singer's flow. It was ecstatic to have such an experience - onset of spring season, beautiful flowers in full bloom, and singers adding life to the atmosphere.

We further moved ahead with a mind enthralling quiz competition-'Quiz Ability' in collaboration with Conquistadors(the quiz society of Sri Venkateswara College) which was a team effort, with one PWD and one non-PWD forming a team.. The Conquistadors did a phenomenal job of crafting the quiz, with every question being unpredictable and challenging. Each new question added to the thrill of the participants, and it was impressive to see the coordination and insightfulness between the PWDs and non-PWDs. The second round was even more engaging, with participants recalling the "pounce" and "direct" rounds long after the competition was over.

"Poets are the biggest liars who speak the truth" keeping this quote in mind we started our poetry competition- "Lafz-e-Sama", this competition was also exclusive for PWDs. It was a truly remarkable experience to witness how young minds put forward their vision on various sensitive issues and incidents by their eloquent word selection.

Everyone is born with a unique talent, this statement is well proved by the PWDs who showcased their talent be it their mimicry, flexibility or mesmerizing dancing, in the 'Kaushal'- talent hunt. They had left no stone unturned to surprise our audience by their fantastic performances.

Lastly, the most awaited event of the day – 'Talash' – the treasure hunt kicked off with utmost zeal. For this competition, there were 30 teams of three members each. First round started, groups were divided and tasks assigned. It was riveting to see how hastily the teams were collecting the items.

After the first round, the top 10 teams were selected to proceed to the final round. This round consisted of collecting cards according to the hints provided. All teams used their intelligence to the fullest, making the event highly competitive and engaging.

In the end, we crowned our deserving winners, making it the most enjoyed event of the day. The excitement and energy of the participants were truly contagious, leaving everyone in attendance with a sense of satisfaction and delight.

Day2-

The second day of Lahar'24, kicked off with an exhilarating cricket match at 10 am that exemplified inclusivity and athleticism.

A spirited cricket event unfolded at the college ground as teams of differently-abled (PWD) students showcase their talent and enthusiasm in a friendly match.

A total of 22 EOC volunteers actively participated in the event, and the match consisted of two teams, each comprising a mix of PWD and non-PWD students. Throughout the match, both teams demonstrated a strong sense of collaboration and unity. Players worked together, strategized effectively, and celebrated each other's achievements, regardless of individual abilities. Matches were played with modified rules to accommodate the diverse abilities of the players, emphasizing fair play and sportsmanship above all else. The match was officiated by EOC volunteers who ensured that the spirit of the game was upheld throughout. After intense rounds of competition, we got our winners, marking the culmination of an unforgettable cricket event filled with camaraderie and excitement.

Next, we had the Three-legged race where the college ground was buzzed with excitement as students gathered for the highly anticipated event which witnessed enthusiastic participation from 30 individuals, forming a total of 15 pairs where each pair composed of a Person with Disability (PWD) and a non-PWD student who competed with one leg tied to their partner's. The event, aimed at fostering teamwork and inclusivity, saw spirited participation from students across the campus. Amid cheers and encouragement, teams battled it out in the initial rounds, displaying impressive coordination and determination. After four rounds of spirited racing, the top three teams emerged triumphant, and their exceptional performance earned them recognition and applause from fellow participants and spectators alike.

As the tension mounted, the focus shifted to the next challenge - a test of force, power, and endurance: tug of war bringing together a total of 40 participants divided into 8 diverse teams. Each team was a mix of PWD and non-PWD students engaged in exhilarating matches, showcasing strength and camaraderie. However, the excitement didn't end there. The climax of the event was the thrilling paper fold dance competition. Paired teams mesmerized the audience with their creativity and agility as they danced on a single piece of paper, folding it after every round without letting it touch the ground. The atmosphere crackled with energy as participants showcased their talent and innovation, leaving the judges facing a tough decision in selecting a winner.

After a delightful lunch in the hostel mess, the prize distribution ceremony commenced with the esteemed presence of the chief guest and guest of honour Dr Satyapal Singh who expressed gratitude towards EOC and SVC for inviting him into the delightful event. The convener of EOC, SVC, extended thanks to the principal, volunteers, and participants, acknowledging their contributions in making the event a resounding success, fostering teamwork, and offering well-deserved recognition to the competitors. The College Principal commended the vibrant atmosphere on campus during the annual fest, praising the enthusiasm of the students.

In the prize distribution ceremony, winners and runner-up received certificates and prizes. All the core and extended core members and selected volunteers also received appreciation awards, encouraging the hard work they did towards making this huge event happen.

As the ceremony concluded, the fest transitioned into a vibrant DJ evening titled "Razzle-dazzle," where attendees let loose and danced with joy, creating unforgettable memories.

In reflection, the event emerged as a resounding success, underscoring the importance of inclusivity and diversity in fostering a dynamic and thriving community. It provided a platform for participants to showcase their unique talents and abilities, instilling confidence and self-expression. Moreover, the event served as a powerful reminder that disabilities should not hinder individuals from pursuing their aspirations and achieving their dreams.

Overall, the event left a lasting impact, inspiring all present to embrace diversity and celebrate the remarkable achievements of individuals regardless of their backgrounds or abilities.
