DISTINGUISHED SPEAKER SESSION

The Economics Association of Sri Venkateswara College organized a Distinguished Speaker Session under Blisspoint 2025–26 on 25 February 2026 in the seminar hall of the college. The session featured two eminent speakers, Dr. Dibyendu Maiti, Professor at the Delhi School of Economics, University of Delhi, and Mr. Subhashis Nath, Founder and CEO of the Global Risk Management Institute.

Dr. Dibyendu Maiti shared valuable academic insights on development economics, focusing on the role of innovation, productivity, and the digital economy in shaping emerging markets. He emphasized how technological advancements and structural transformations are redefining labour markets and industrial performance across developing economies. His discussion also highlighted the importance of digital transformation in improving productivity and enabling countries to integrate more effectively into global production networks.

Mr. Subhashis Nath complemented this perspective by bringing an industry-oriented view on enterprise risk management and global compliance systems. Drawing from his extensive professional experience, he explained how organizations today must adopt comprehensive risk frameworks to manage uncertainties in global markets. He also discussed the growing relevance of governance, compliance architecture, and institutional resilience in maintaining sustainable business operations.

Together, the speakers bridged the gap between academic theory and industry practice. Their insights helped students understand how economic policies, technological change, and risk governance intersect to shape modern economic systems. The session concluded with an engaging interaction where students discussed contemporary challenges related to markets, media influence, and institutional accountability.

SamrajyaX

The Empire Exchange

Twelve teams. Eight tradable entities. Three trading sessions. An empire at peace, then at war.

SamrajyaX, presented by The Economics Association of Sri Venkateswara College, was a two-day offline market simulation built around an original imperial world called Samrajya. Participants were not handed a textbook exercise. They were placed inside a living economy complete with its own history, court politics, trade networks, military alliances, and eight flagship industries to trade across.

Every price movement was a consequence. Every bulletin carried a choice. And by the end of Day 2, the empire itself was under invasion.

There were 207 registrations for the event.

Day 1 | The Opening Bell

"Wealth flows like water. It seeks the lowest point unless guided by the hands of the wise."

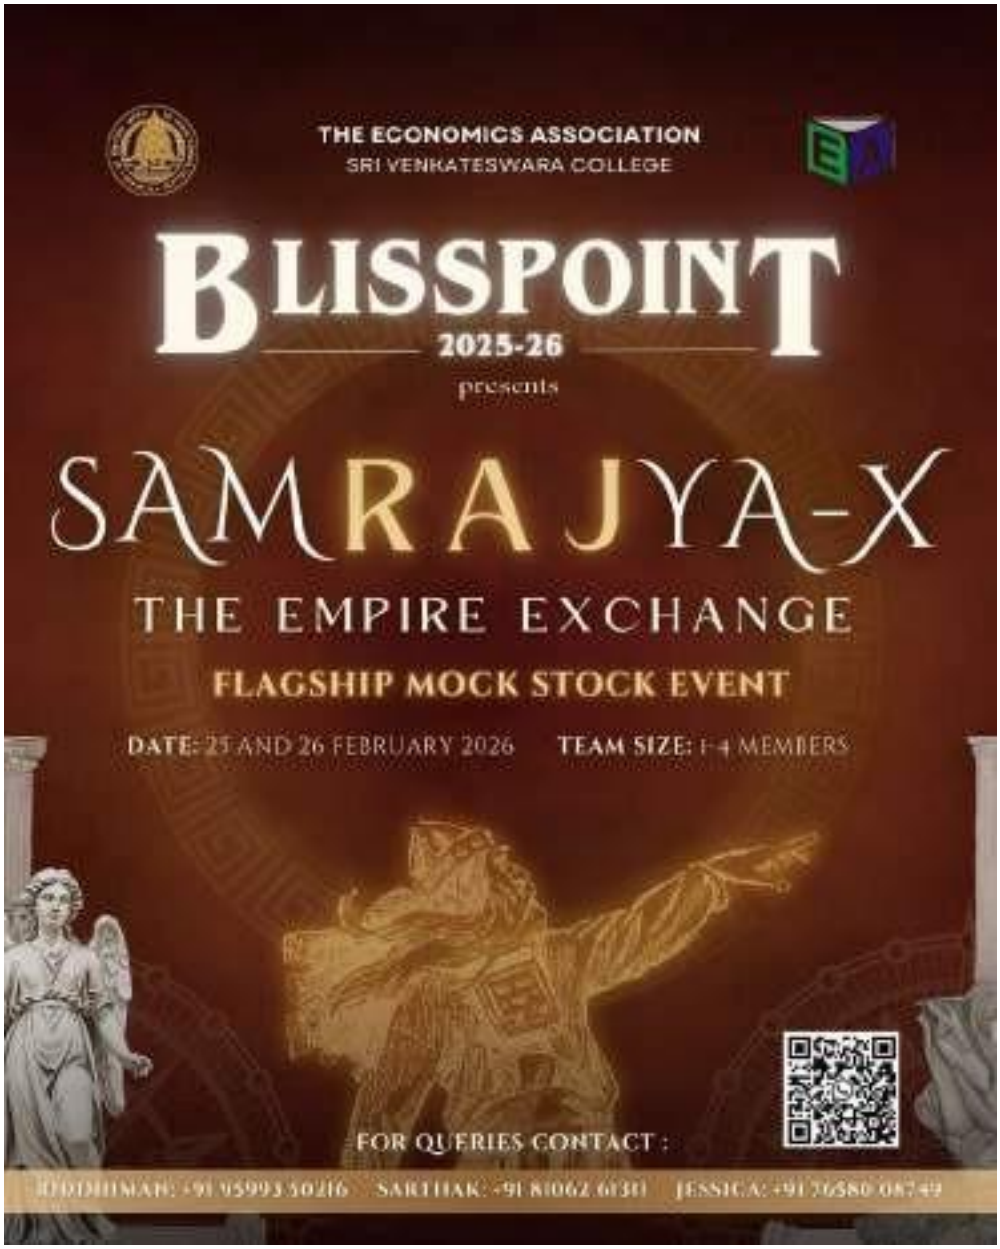

The first day of the event opened with participants stepping into the role of elite investors within Dhanaprastha, the imperial capital of Samrajya. Eight entities representing the empire's eight industries were listed on the Exchange, each beginning at 100 Svarna Mudra. The task was simple to state and difficult to execute: read the economy, price the news, build a position.

The Artha Parishad, the regulatory council of the Exchange, released forty bulletins over the course of the session. They covered grain harvest projections, port activity at Dhanabhandar, infrastructure contract announcements, border tensions with neighbouring kingdoms, shifts in Rajkosha credit policy, and the quieter movements of the royal court. No bulletin was designed to be read alone. Every piece of news connected to a broader picture that participants had to construct for themselves.

Day 1 operated under a single constraint: BUY only. No team could sell a position they had entered. This meant that the quality of reasoning mattered from the very first decision. There was no correcting a mistake by exiting. Every trade was a commitment.

The early session was cautious. Teams tested their interpretations carefully, watching how prices responded as bulletins accumulated. By mid-session the room had found its rhythm, and the divergence between teams began to show not in argument but in the direction of their submissions.

By the close of Day 1, the eight entities had separated meaningfully from their opening prices. Jeevan Kalyan Mandal and Vidya Sabha had climbed steadily across the session. Vanijya Mandal had absorbed the heaviest pressure, reflecting the compounding effect of port disruptions and trade tensions throughout the bulletin sequence. Teams spent the evening re-reading every bulletin, looking for what they had missed and preparing for what was still to come.

AMPERSAND

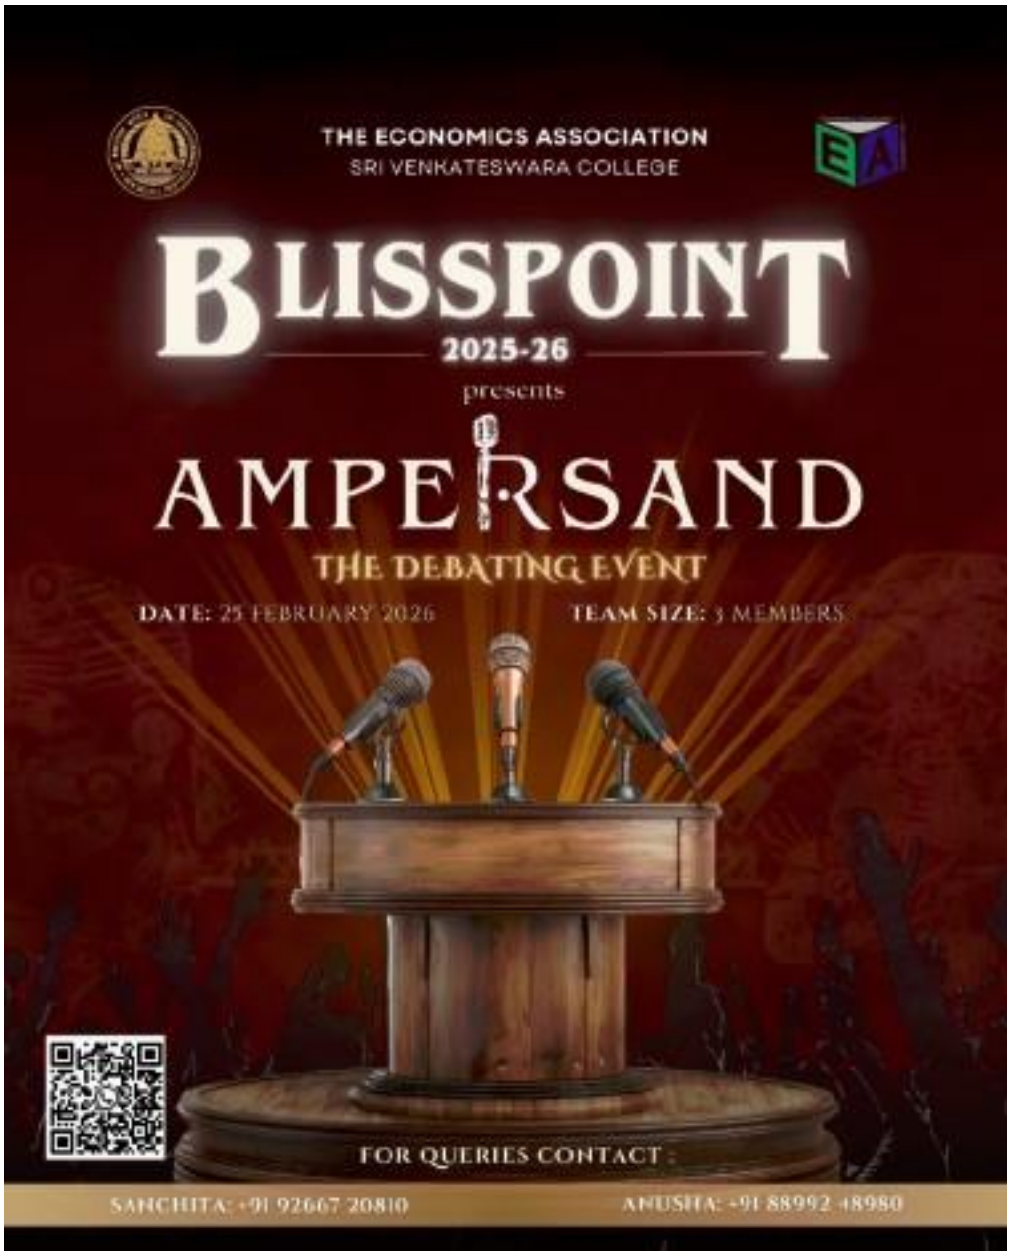

Ampersand, the flagship debating event organised by the Economics Association of Sri Venkateswara College as part of Blisspoint 2026, was held on 25th February from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. in Room No. 57. There were 76 registrations for the event. The event was headed by Sanchita Jha and Anusha Anand and saw enthusiastic participation from students eager to engage in rigorous debate and discussion.

The event followed a Modified Asian Parliamentary Debate format, with participants competing in teams of three. Ampersand received 70 registrations, reflecting strong interest in the event. The competition began with Round 1, where participants submitted 15 written responses to the motions released. Based on the quality of their arguments and analytical depth, the top six teams advanced to Round 2.

The final round featured the motion: “This House Believes That ASEAN should introduce a common currency.” The debate witnessed thoughtful arguments from both the proposition and the opposition, with teams engaging critically with economic integration, regional cooperation, and the practical challenges of a shared currency.

After a closely contested round, Team M&M emerged as the winners, comprising Daksh Yadav, Parmarth and Krish. Their performance stood out for its clarity of reasoning, structured arguments, and effective rebuttals.

The event concluded on a high note, highlighting the spirit of critical thinking and informed dialogue that Ampersand aims to encourage.

BRANDSTORM

The Clash of Brands was organised by the Economics Association of Sri Venkateswara College on the first day of its annual event, Blisspoint 2026. Amish Chaudhary, Mukund Baheti and Gyananda Maheshwari headed the event. There were 96 registrations for the event.

BRANDSTORM was the standout marketing fusion event of Blisspoint 2026. This dynamic gathering brought together innovative brands and captivating presentations, challenging participants to showcase their brand knowledge, presentation skills, and negotiation prowess. The event unfolded over three exciting rounds.

The first round took place online through Unstop, where teams demonstrated their expertise in economics, aptitude, and logical reasoning. The top 7 teams advanced to Round 2—Mismatch, the first onsite round. In this stage, each team was assigned a unique brand fusion, creatively pairing a high-end luxury brand with a daily use brand, such as Manish Malhotra X Fab India. Teams then crafted pitch decks for their fused brands and presented them to the judges. This round was a powerful combination of fun and strategy, evaluating teams on their creativity and business acumen.

The top 5 teams were confidently selected for the Grand Finale - The Brand Conference. Each team was assigned a brand facing a negative headline. They skillfully analyzed the situation, developed a strong stance, and presented their counterarguments to a panel of journalists, adeptly handling their challenging questions. This high-intensity round tested each team's damage control skills, persuasiveness, and ability to remain composed under pressure. Each team's performance was meticulously judged on these key attributes.

The 1st Position was secured by Team Nova Shift, comprising of Raghav Kathuria, Karuna Tandon and Tiya Arora. The first runners up were team Maitreyi, comprising of Palak Gupta, Palak D and Swikrutee Priyadarsani. lastly, the second runners up were team Deck Crafts comprising of Twinkle Kaushik and Shubh Satakshi. The event concluded with a brief feedback session by the Judge, Ms Seher Vaish followed by a Vote of Thanks by Amish, the event head. The winners were felicitated by the judge and event heads.
