REPORT

The Economics Association conducted its first academic event in the form of a speaker session on the topic “Financial Inclusion: Past, Present and Future”, held on 27th September 2025. The session was led by Shri M. Nagaraju, Hon’ble Secretary, Department of Financial Services, Ministry of Finance, Government of India.

During his session, Shri Nagaraju highlighted various initiatives introduced by the government to level the pervasive gap among the different sections of the society. He explained how different measures adopted by the government extended the penetration of banking services deep into the rural and the suburban areas of the country. He stated that, as of now, over 94% of the citizens have opened bank accounts and, he mentioned a couple of measures being adopted to move closer to universal household access to the banking facilities and services.

He added on to underscore the importance of UPI (Unified Payments Interface) services in raising the total volume of transactions. Furthermore, he outlined the plans to roll out more advanced payment technologies in the UPI system, especially which would only require the biometrics of the individual to conduct the transaction.

Overall, the seminar provided an enriching experience to all the students in attendance. It offered a fresh perspective to every participant on how to manage their financials more effectively and efficiently.

The seminar concluded by a paper presentation event on the theme “Finance and Development” delivered by six students from the department. They displayed a strong command in the subject matter and presented their work with both depth and eloquence.
