Report - Enactus Offline Marketing Event (Karvaan 2026)

Thursday, 13th August 2026

Enactus SVC hosted an impactful event on August 13th 2026, at the college's front lawn, focused on promoting Enactus and sustainable practices. With over 150 participants, the event combined awareness with hands-on activities, all dedicated to making a positive impact.

We extend our sincere thanks to Respected Principal Sir, Prof. Vajala Ravi and our convenors Dr. Lakshay Malhotra and Dr. Manoj Thakur for their invaluable support in making this event possible. The event commenced at 09:30 A.M. and continued all day, engaging participants with a variety of informative and interactive activities. Here's a snapshot of the day's activities:

Product Display and Help Desk- The event commenced with an informative introduction to Enactus and its initiatives, highlighted through a dedicated product display that showcased the impact of our ongoing projects. A help and query desk was also set up to guide participants, answer their questions, and deepen their understanding of Enactus's mission to drive social entrepreneurship and sustainability.

Enactus members engaged with participants by explaining project models and products, while the help desk provided clarity and personalized guidance.

To make the event engaging and awareness-driven, a variety of fun yet meaningful activities were organized. Games like Guess the Fragrance, Guess the Hookstep, Project Playground, Gulzar Memory Maze Treasure Hunt, Beat the Clock and Kulhad Minesweeper allowed participants to interact with the team and understand Enactus projects in an enjoyable way.

These activities not only kept the crowd entertained but also familiarized them with Enactus's impact in an interactive, memorable manner.

Guess the Fragrance- This sensory game featured products from both projects; incense sticks from Project Gulzar and scented candles from Project Fankaari. Participants were blindfolded and challenged to identify the fragrances using only their sense of smell. The activity offered a fun and engaging way for participants to interact with and learn about the products under both projects.

Gulzar Memory Maze- This game tested participants' memory and attention to detail using calendar sheets from Project Gulzar. The sheets were displayed in a random order for a short period, after which participants had to arrange them in the same sequence in which they had initially seen them. The activity combined the visual elements of Project Gulzar with a simple yet engaging memory challenge.

Kulhad Minesweeper- Kulhad Minesweeper gave a creative twist to the traditional game by using cleaned kulhads from Project Fankaari as props. Participants had to select one kulhad at a time, with three hidden flowers placed among them. Choosing a flower resulted in immediate elimination. The activity also gave participants a direct and interactive connection with the materials used in Project Fankaari.

Project Playground- An interactive activity designed to encourage participants to think creatively about social and environmental challenges. Two bowls were placed, one containing different social issues and the other containing various environmental issues. Participants picked one issue from each bowl and were then challenged to come up with and pitch a project idea that addressed both problems together. The activity encouraged creative problem-solving and gave participants an opportunity to think about how social and environmental issues can be tackled through innovative and sustainable solutions.

Throughout the event, participants actively engaged in discussions, games, and creative activities that broadened their perspective on sustainability and social entrepreneurship. The diversity of activities from interactive games to creative workshops ensured that learning was both impactful and enjoyable.
